Canadian Energy Geoscience Association

Wendy Shier, M.Sc., P.Geo, is a seasoned professional with over 25 years of valuable experience in Canada's dynamic energy industry. Throughout her career, she has demonstrated a remarkable blend of technical expertise and leadership acumen, earning her a distinguished reputation within the sector.

Wendy is deeply passionate about mentoring and career development. Recognizing the importance of guiding the next generation of professionals, she actively engaged in both corporate and volunteer mentoring initiatives, leaving an indelible mark on the individuals she has supported throughout their career journeys.

In 2019, Wendy joined CEGA's (Canadian Energy Geoscience Association) mentoring committee, a move that would prove instrumental in her commitment to mentoring. Leading this wonderful committee, she played a pivotal role in the development and execution of the CEGA's mentoring program. This initiative aims to foster growth and excellence within the energy industry by providing CEGA members with the guidance and support needed to navigate their careers successfully.

Wendy Shier expresses her gratitude to CEGA for the honor bestowed upon her, acknowledging the organization's commitment to fostering a culture of mentorship and professional growth.
